Setting about Megashowcase

The old version of Megashowcase has a function of real-time update according to what user set up for the category. There is link-up for individual item as well. It is required to use active content which is prohibited by eBay now. The system update for template design aims at removing all active contents. Therefore, the function of old Megashowcase has been removing from the old version of template.

When designing the new version of Megashowcase, we've considered the need of real-time update. Therefore, the new version Dynamic can make a real-time change, and guide the customers to your eBay shop by a single click. At the same time, another version Static of Megashowcase can guide your customers to the individual item page. You should be aware that the items information will not be updated automatically. You must synchronize up the listing in order to make its relevant items' information and link from your Megashowcase to get updated.

The new version of megashowcase can display more products to your customer. It's definitely a useful tool for cross-selling.
